SAT DOWN UPON MR. WALKER

It is Recommended That His Speech Be Stricken from the Record.

MIS LANGUAGE WAS UNPARLIAMENTARY

Army Appropriation and Free Wool Bill Discussed by Members of the House-Talked Against the Fair Approrintion-In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21,-It is likely that a radical reform in the matter of the privilege afforded members of extending their speeches in the Record will result from the investigation into the transgressions of Mr. Walker of Mussachusetts. Ever since the session opened there has been a warm political rivairy between the republican and democratic representatives of the Bay state, and Mr. Walker at times has had several lively bouts with Messrs. Hoar and Williams.

Williams' Unparliamentary Remarks. Near the close of his tariff speech in the house last week Mr. Walker had just reached an impassioned flight of oratory when his time of debate expired under the rules. As is the custom the house indulgently granted him leave to extend his speech in the Record. He did so in a very lavish manner and added elaborations to the speech by requesting the insertion of headlines calculated to rivet the attention of the reader, such as "Hot Shot for Mug-wumps; Hoar and Williams Shown Up," etc. In addition to this Mr. Walker, in his extended speech, charged the speaker with gag-rule methods, accusing him of having gag-rule methods, accusing him of having packed the coinage committee with the tree coinage men and boidly asserted that the democratic representatives from Massachusetts had gained their seats by fraud.

Immediately after the appearance of this speech in the Record Mr. Williams called attention to what he asserted was an infraction of the rules and, aft r a lively debate, Mr. Walker's whole speech was referred to

Mr. Walker's whole speech was referred to the committee on printing, with instructions to report on its propriety and as to whether it should be stricken from the Congressional Ordered it Stricken from the Record.

The committee today submitted a report which reviews the speech in detail and pra-sents a a resolution, declaring that the house, deeming it its duty to see that the courtesy and decorum demanded by parliamentary law and practice should characterize the debate and conduct of members at all times in their official relations, hereby expresses its disapproval of the unparliamentary language used by Hon. Joseph Walker, a representative of Massachusetts in that portion of his speech printed in the Record of the 17th inst., but which was not delivered on the floor, and considering it impracticable to separate the unparliamentary portions of the speech from such parts as may be parlia-mentary, recommends that the whole of the undelivered portion of the speech be expunged from the Record.

Mr. Boutene of the republican side objected to the consideration of the report and Chairman Richardson of the committee on printing finally agreed that it should be printed in the Record and be called up for consideration tomorrow.

There is little doubt that Mr. Boutelle and other republicans will defend Mr. Walker, although the report of the committee recommending the eradicating of the remarks was unanimously concurred in by both sides.

Mr. Enloe stated that he had information that there was a ring in the coast survey, and presented a resolution asking for a statement on the subject by the secretary of the treasury. Passed.

Army Appropriation Bill,

whole on the army appropriation cill A long discussion took place during the consideration of the bill over a point of order raised by Mr. Crain of Texas against a proviso in the bill, that hereafter no money apviso in the bill, that hereafter no money ap-propriated for army transportation shall be used in the payment of transportation of troops and supplies of the army over the non-aided lines owned, controlled or operated by the Union Pacific railway or by the Southern Pacific over lines embraced in its Pacific The chairman, in the clear-cut language which always characterizes his romarks, sus-tained the point of order, the principal ground for his decision being that the proviso made a permanent law.

Then Mr. Outhwaite offered an amendment making the same provision, but making it apply only to the present oill.

This was agreed to and the committee hav ing arisen the bill was passed. Considered the Free Wool Bill.

. The house then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Blount in the chair, on the free wool bill. Mr. Goodnight assailed the protection sys-

Mr. Snodgrass of Tennessee consumed his time in opposition to the bill donating $5,000,000 to the World's fair. He contended that representatives in congress in making this appropriation would violate the constitution and would do so in direct violation of the which the members took at the bar of the house. The committee then rose and the house adjourned.

Appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Laredo, Tex. Senate bill to amend the act for the relief of certain settlers on the public lands and to provide for the repayment of certain fees, purchase money and commissions paid on void entries, was taken up as a special order. Mr. Miller moved to amend it by striking out the word "assign" and inserting the words "legal representatives" (so that the act shall not apply to the purchasers from the original settlers), and the amendment was agreed to. Without disposing of the bill the senate proceeded to executive busi-ness and shortly afterward adjourned.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

Interview with the Chinese Minister on

That Subject.
Wassington, D. C., March 21.—Mr. Tsui Kwo Gin, the Chinese minister, has prepared a letter to the secretary of state urging an early response to the various communications that the Chinese government has sent to this government with reference to the restriction of Chinese immigration. Owing to the continued illness of Mr. Blaine the latter has not been seen, but there is little doubt that it will be forwarded to the State department within a very few days.

The Star tonight prints an interview with

The Star tonight prints an interview with the minister in which he says: "For several years, in fact ever since I have been in this country, I have been endeavoring to secure better treatment for my people at the hands of the United States. To this end I have for warded a number of letters to the State departwarded a number of letters to the State depart-ment stating our position, but as yet I have received no satisfactory answer. If the United States wishes to put a stop to Chinese immigration it should be done by means of a treaty with my country. For the means of a treaty with my country. For the United States to agree to a treaty providing for the admission of Chinese and then to override it by congress is hardly acting in good faith. One side has all to say and the other side is not considered at all. By your constitution you encourage immigration and insure fair treatment of all alike, and yet your treatment of the Chinese is inconsistout with the constitution and the principles laid down by George Washington."

"There is one question I would like to ask you," said the reporter. "If the United States puts further restriction on Chinese immigration will China exclude Americans from her territors." from her territory?"

The answer was a long time in coming and was a diplomatic one:
"It seems to me that the Americans should consider the situation and withdraw from China of their own free will. I will answer your question by asking you one. Suppose that the American minister in London should say to the Chinese minister: 'You keep away from the American legation, I don't want you here.' Do you think the Chinese minister would visit the legation again, and do you think the minister would expect much of a welcome at the Chinese legation! You may draw your own inferences. The American may draw your own inferences. The American people are talking a great deal about reciprocity just now. They should remember that reciprocity works two ways."

STILL A PROFOUND SECRET.

The Contents of Salisbury's Note Not Yet Made Public. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The text of Lord Salisbury's last note on the Bering sea question is still kept a profound secret. It is believed it is not satisfactory. There is a grawing sentiment that the United States will be compelled to take energetic measures to protect the seals.

It is impossible to obtain any official in-formation concerning the note received from Lord Salisbury yesterday on the Bering sea question. The unusual reticeones of the officials on the subject is said to be in accordance with strict instructions, direct from the president, that the communication shall be withheld from the public at least until after its submission to the senate.

General Foster, who is representing the State department in this matter, had two interviews with the president on the subject today, one early in the day and the other in the afternoon, and the impression is general that they considered the character of the reply to be made to Lord Salisbury's last note.

Loxnox, March 21.—In the House of Commons it was stated that negotiations with the United States on the Bering sea question wars still proceeding. were still proceeding.

River and Harbor Bill. Washington, D. C., March 21. -The river and harbor bill will be reported to the house tomorrow or Wednesday. The great lakes' deep water channel, the Mississippi river and some of the other projected improve-ments will be put under the contract system. Appropriations for the improvements include the Hennipen canal, $500,000; Missouri river to Sioux City, $500,000; above Sioux City to Fort Bentou, $75,000; with provisions for special work, if necessary, at Pierre or Yank state commerce commission. Army Officers After Plums. New York, March 21,-A Washington

correspondent telegraphs his paper that an unexpected bit of army patronage has been placed at the disposal of the president by the resignation of General Orlando B. Wilcox of the governor-ship of the Soldiers home. A dozen or more retired army officers here have already entered the contest for the succession to Gen-eral Wilcox. The fight, however, may be re-garded as ended, for there is little doubt that General John C. Kelton is booked for the place. The succession to General Kelton promises to to be an exciting fight. Colonel Robert Williams and Colone: Chauncy Mc-Keever will be the chief contestants, with the first named the next in line of promotion but the latter has his longest service to show,

Will Place an Army Officer in Charge. RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL Amounts Appropriated by it for Making

Necessary Improvements.

WHERE THE MONEY WILL BE EXPENDED

ome of the Provisions of the Bill-A Part of the Work to Be Done by Contract-Washington News Notes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21 .- The house committee on rivers and harbors today comploted consideration of the regular rivers and arbors appropriation bill. It appropriates $20,709,000, which is about $200,000 less than the amount carried by the bill reported by the committee in the last congress.

The greatest feature of the oill is the extent to which the committee enlarges the policy adopted by the inst congress of placing some of the most important projects under contract system, by means of which work can be undertaken with the amount appropriated for the year covered by the bill and contracts entered into for the completion of the work and of its continuance without serious interruption, as has sometimes nappened when the continuance of the work was entirely dependent upon the river and harbor appropriations by each congress before the work could again be pushed ahead. This year the committee authorizes additional contracts to be entered into aggregating $32,151,706, distributed as follows:

Additional Contracts, Charleston, S. C., $2,178,000; Savannah, Ga., $3,217,000; Mobile, Aln., $1,443,800; Hud-Son river, $2,447,906; Columbia river, Oregon, $1,700,000; the great lakes, $3,340,000; Point Judith, R. I., $1,175,000; Beaver Dam, Ohio, $650,000; the Mississippi river, $16,000,000 000,000.

The bill in authorizing the contract system to be applied to the Mississippi; iver provides: "For improving the Mississippi river from the head of the passes to the mouth of the Obio river, including salaries, clerical, office, traveling and miscellaneous expenses of the Mississippi river commis-sions, and continuing improvements, $2,500,-000 (the amount directly appropriated in this year's bill), to be expended under the direc-tion of the secretary of war in accordance with the plans, specifications and recomenda-tions of the Mississippi river commission for the general improvement of the river for the building of levees and for surveys, including the surveys from the head of the passes to the headwaters of the river in such manner as in their opinion shall best improve naviga-ticn and promote the interests of commerce at all stages of the river. Additional con-tracts may be entered into by the sceretary of war for such materials and work as may of war for such materials and work as may be necessary to carry on continuously the plans of the Mississippi river commissions, or the material may be purchased and work done otherwise than by contract, to be provided for as appropriations may be made from time to time, not exceeding in the aggregate $2,500,000 per annum for three years commencing July 1, 1893.

Work on the Mississippi.

"For improving the Mississpi river from the mouth of the Ohio to St. Paul $1,500,000. Additional contracts may be made by the secretary of war to carry on continuously the systematic improvement of the Mississippi between the points mentioned or material may be purchased and work done otherwise by contract not exceeding in the aggregate $1,500,000 per annum for three years commanding July 1 1833. Provided further. commencing July 1, 1853. Provided, further, that of the amount appropriated $709,000 shall be expended from the mouth of the Ohio to the mouth of the Missouri river and $800,000 from the mouth of the Missouri to St. Paul, and the amounts for additional constants.

tracts authorized to be entered into shall be expended in like proportions."

In the case of the great takes project $400,-000 is appropriated in the bill for a ship chan-nel, twenty and twenty-one feet deep, and of a minimum width of 300 feet, in the shallows of the connecting waters of the great lakes between Chicago, Duiuth and Buffalo. Further contracts may be made by the secre tary of war to carry out the plan proposed by the engineer officer at Detroit.

Work to Be Done Under Contract.

In the cases of the other improvements put under the contract system, the bill provides that the secretary of war may enter into contracts to complete the present project of im-provements, to be paid for as appropriations may be made by law. The aggregate cost of the contracts, it is provided in each case, shall not exceed, inclusive of the appropriations made directly in this bill, the cost heretofore named as the limit of cost of completion of the improvements. For these projects there is directly appropriated in the bill the following amounts: Charleston har-bor, $300,000; Mobile harbor, $350,000; Savannah river, $125,000; improving the Ohio river by the construction of a movable dam at or below the mouth of Beaver river, Pennsylvania, $100,000; Point Judith, R. I., $100. 000; Columbia river, Oregon, at the Cas cades, $435,000.

WILL HAVE MUCH TO ANSWER.

Grand Jury Investigations of Boodle Cases

on an Extensive Scale, Chicago, Ill., March 21, -The investigation of the boodlers by the grand jury is not to be confined to the three or four members who have been so frequently mentioned in that connection. States Attorney Longenecker said last night that the jury was following up any load that might result in the conviction of a money giver or money taker. Among other ordinances the passage of which will be inquired into will be the lately passed omnibus ordinance, giving the Chicago City Raniway company the right to string overhead wires and run electric cars on most of the streets not already occupied. The grand jury will also make a determined effort to sift the relations between the Gas trust and the city authorities, particularly the circumstances attending the settlement made with the officers of the trust last June by which the rate of $1.20 a thousand was accepted. It is stated that the jury has in-formation showing that certain aldermen maintain their relations with the trust.

The state's attorney also says that the investigation of the big four-mile tunnel (built vestigation of the big four-mile tunnel (built out under the lake for the purpose of increasing the city's water supply) will be reopened. He states that evidence has been placed in his hands showing years of municipal jugglery. Reasons will be given showing just why the aldermanic committee recently appointed to investigate the construction of this tunnel failed to probe evidences of fraud. President Billings of the Gas trust, who is at Hot Springs, says in an interview there is at Hot Springs, says in an interview there is nothing in the stary of boodle being offered to kill the Economic gas ordinance. He says the ordinance was pending when two alder-men asked him what he wanted done with it, but his reply was that he did not care.

BOUGHT THE LEGISLATURE.

Charges That Wholesale Bribery Secured the Passage of the Reading Bill. New York, March 21 .- Last Friday the Herald charged the use of a corruption fund of at least $3,000,000 raised by interested capitalists and stock jobbers to secure the passage in the New Jersey legislature of the bill legatizing the coal combination of the Reading. Now the Herald returns to the subject and states that more than half of the secret is laid bare. There was bribery, and enormous bribery at that. Proof of it is furnished on the word of State Senator Maurice Rogers of Camden county, and his word will be accepted unquestionably from one end of the state to the other. Senator Rogers, in an interview at Camden, is quoted as saying that at 1:30 a. m. of the day the bill passed, he was offered and refused $10,000 for his vote for the bill. Then the agent returned and offered more than $25,000, though Rogers does not state the exact figures. He says, however, when asked if the sum was more than $25,000; "Yes, much more. You see I was to have made up the necessary majority, so the agent told me. I will only say that it was a sum so large that if put at 6 per cent interest I so large that if put at 6 per cent interest I need not have worked any more."

Senator Rogers was asked to expose the man who tried to brib him, but replied:
"The people may biame me for withholding his name, but I would be causing greater pain to my feelings if I told it than any public praise could assuage. I attended the senate and saw the bill pass, not knowing many of the votes were bought. I had not suspected it before, but now I know it. I was almost stunned and did not know what to do. The bill came up, and Senator Gard-The bill came up, and Senator Gard ner, in a speech, showed clearly that it was a most outrageous piece of legislation, force ing on the people a monopoly and the arbitrary confiscation of the stock of shareholders who objected. Not a word was said on the other side. They simply voted it through and that was an end of it." through and that was an end of it.

ENGINEER WHISTLER'S HOODOO.

Hurt in One Wreck, Killed in Another, and His Coffin Croshed in a Third.

DURANGO, Colo., March 21.—A strange fatality seems to follow Engineer Whistier even after death. It will be remembered that Whistler was killed in a wreck Friday night near Glencoo. He had just recovered from injuries received in a railroad wreck, and this was his first run since his illness. Yesterday his remains were started to his home in California. The train had proceeded home in California. The train had proceeded to a point called the "Hook," on the Mancos hill, when suddenly the express car which contained the remains broke loose from the rest of the train, jumped the track and turned completely over. The coffin containing Whistler's body was badly damaged and a man named Mack, who was escorting the remains, had his leg badly bruised. The coffin and express matter were transferred to a freight car and the train proceeded on its way.

Des Moines' Official Mixture. DES MOINES, 1a., March 21. - [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-There appears to be a difference of opinion as to who is city mar shal of Des Moldes. A few days ago it was officially announced that Sol Sutsman had resigned and Fred Johnson appointed and a number of other changes made agreeable to the occasion in the marshal's office. Today Sol Stetzman again occupied the marshal's chair and to all intents and purposes was performing the duties of the office. To all queries he affirmed that he was still the marshal. Fred Johnson also stated to all inquiries that he was the bona fide marshal. Th policemen said they did not know who was marshall, but obeyed the orders of noth Stutzman and Johnson, which so far have not conflicted.

Stutsman said that he had never resigned that the story that he had so done was un-true; that he and the mayor were on good terms and he hoped they would continue the friendly relation. He had nothing to say as to reasons for the alleged resignation and succeeding appointments, Mayor Campbell was "mum;" he said:

"Don't ask me any questions for I wont answer them." The question of who is marshal is consequently answered by several aldermen and thers that Stutsman retains the place. resignation was not mentioned to the city council last week nor today, neituer was the alleged appointment of Fred Johnson presented to the council for confirmative action.

Convincing Evidence Against the Man Arrested in Australia. PERTH, Australia, March 21.-Deoming was again before the magistrate vesterday. The court house was picked. The prisoner, who still persists in calling himself Swanston, entered the dock with a jaunty air, but became nervous and fidgety during the reading of the charges. After the giving of the formal evidence in regard to his arrest he was remanded. Deeming's luggage has been fully examined. Among the articles found were a carl cartifying to the membership of Emily Mather in the Rain Hill Band of Hope, a time-table of trains between Rain Hill and Liverpool, an autograph album belonging to Emily Mather, a book of addresses of persons in England, a pocketoook bearing the monogram "B. F. D.," a Masonic apron similarly lettered, a silver card case and a prayer book containing the name "Emily." Among the addresses noted are "McDonald, New York, Birgennead, Marshall, New York, Birgennead, Marshall, New York," and others of persons in Hull and Liverpool, proving the identity of Williams, Deeming, Lawson, etc.

Concluding Testimony in the Trial of

Very Little Importance PROSPECTS OF A VERY EARLY CLOSE

One Instance in Which a Witness for the Prosecution Was Shown to Be Mistaken with Regard to Facts of Importance, Hastings, Neb., March 21.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE |-The seventh day of thetrial of Captain A. D. Yocum for the murderof Myron Van Fleet witnessed the closing of the evidence and the beginning of the arguments. A block of soldiers sat at one side of the room and they all seemed much interested in the testimony and in the arguments.

The prosecution introduced on rebuttai a number of business men to prove that on the day of the tragedy Captain Yocum was apparently sane and that he had seen Van Fleet several times that day. The defense in surrebuttal undertook toimpeach the testimony of John A. Gant, who-trstified that he saw Yocum in Denver in March 1801, and that then he knew of the scandal. The defense started to prove by envolopes addressed in Younn's handwriting and bearing the government postoffice-postmark, when the prosecution nullified Gants' evidence by admitting that he was mistaken as to the time he saw Yocum in Denver. This closed the case for the de-

It was agreed by counsel that each side should be entitled to five speeches. County Attorney Hoepner opened the argument for the state. He reviewed the testimony and circumstances of the killing, and deprecated the plea of insanity, and urged the claims of justice upon the jury.

He was followed by Attorney M. A. Hartl-gan for the defense. He made a strong plea, and depicted the plight Captain Yourn found himself in. As a misunderstanding arose concerning some of the testimony given by Miss Alice Yocum, it was re-read by the stenographer, to settle the discussion

Continuing, Mr. Hartigan strongly urged upon the jury the awful condition of Captain Yocum after hearing his daughter's confes-sion. After speaking for an hour an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow WRECK ON THE UNION PACIFIC.
